Wellensteyn USA presents the quality and functionality you expect in rugged work-wear, coupled with sophistication of high-end European fashion sensibilities. The result is a tremendously versatile family of impressive outerwear jackets.

Founded more than 60 years ago in Hamburg Germany by Adolf Wuttke, Wellensteyn originated as a producer of deep-submerge mechanical instruments designed to withstand the rigors of the North Sea. Wuttke also realized that his customers, technicians and dockhands in the shipyards of Germany, were also in constant need of sturdy, water-resistant work-wear. He developed a heavy, seaworthy, waxed sailcloth that could be use to provide superior durability for those exposed to some of the toughest elements. Wellensteyn produces quality women's fashions including women's twin sets, women's tops, women's sweaters, angoras, and pants, as well as novelty and embellished varieties.
